

AF3IRM
JUSTICE FOR WOMEN
FELLOWSHIP

The AF3IRM Justice for Women Fellowship offers the opportunity to gain a hands-on policymaking experience at the Hawai'i State Legislature as part of a project toward the full integration of women's concerns in the mainstream of Hawai'i politics.

Working closely with AF3IRM Hawai'i, the Justice for Women Fellow will be assigned to an individual state legislator's office to support their staff to research, draft legislation, and advise around current, pressing problems affecting women and girls in Hawai'i.

The position is at the Hawai'i State Capitol in Honolulu and, as unpaid, should be taken for academic credit at a local college or university. Fellow will receive one roundtrip travel to Maui for a community presentation of their project. The fellowship requires a minimum of 12 hours per week. Qualifying credit hours will vary by academic institution.

AF3IRM Hawai'i is a multiethnic, transnational feminist organization that demands the State affirm women's rights through gender equity. We seek to develop women leaders fundamentally committed to feminism and to laying the ground for just spaces in Hawai'i and globally.
